About Nancy Tung RN

Nancy has been in the health care profession for a long time. For the past 10 years, she has been immersing herself in energy healing modalities. Nancy is intuitive, highly effective and efficient. She believes that when work is performed in the spirit of service, it is considered Worship!

Employing combinations of various techniques she learned over the years, always experimenting on herself first, Nancy’s approach helps to resolve long term, difficult issues, or emotional pain manifested as physical stress, in a relatively short period of time.

Her love for her work is evident in the positive healing results the clients experience. Often times, there is a sense of spiritual resolution that is hard to put into words, as if the soul has been touched! Family Constellation is one of the very powerful modalities she often uses in her work!
